

The right infrastructure

Hotel facilities are designed to give an excellent attention to their guests. Whether you choose luxurious, five-star hotels, or cozy boutique hotels, you will find the right infrastructure for your congresses or incentive programs, with convention centers and rooms that can house large events, with capacity up to 2.000 people. Although the Central Valley meets all the requirements in this regard, you can find further options in other regions.

You can reach your destination by road or by air. There are several non-stop flights from the United States to the Juan Santamaria Airport in San Jose or the Daniel Oduber Airport in Liberia, so you don't have to wait too long arriving at your destination.

An essential factor in today's businesses is composed of telecommunications and technological equipment. In this regard, Costa Rica has one of the most advanced telecommunications systems in Latin America and state of the art technology that should help you run successful businesses and meetings.

On the other hand, your business event does not have to end up in the conference room. There is a range of services to complement these activities, like catering services, parties and special events, restaurants, handicrafts, and transportation throughout the country.
