Mini-guide to Bijagua
and surrounding areas
Bijagua de Upala is a center of development and a tourist destination presenting sustained growth. Tourist arrivals to the area are largely motivated by the natural attractions of the Tenorio Volcano National Park. This park offers a tour on the Mysteries of Tenorio trail where you can observe the Rio Celeste Waterfall, Teñideros, flora, fauna and more. Its natural beauties promise great adventures and an extraordinary time for visitors. In addition, the small community of Bijagua is strategic from the point of view of the flow of tourists, as it is in the middle of two regions: La Fortuna of San Carlos and North Guanacaste.

The region has a series of natural attractions such as the Tenorio Volcano National Park, the Caño Negro Wildlife Refuge, and water resources such as Rio Frio and Rio Celeste. These attractions are complemented by the presence of a socio-cultural resource of great value, such as the Maleku indigenous reserve, the only reserve of its kind in the entire northern part of the country, as well as rural and wellness tourism activities.

Maleku indigenous territory

The indigenous population is mainly located in the canton of Guatuso, within the “Maleku indigenous territory”. Currently, its population is approximately 1,400 people, located in three settlements or palenques: Margarita, El Sol and Tonjibe, where they live. The El Sol palenque is located 4 km from San Rafael de Guatuso; Margarita is located 6 km east and 2 km southeast of San Rafael and Tonjibe is located 2 km from the Margarita palenque.

All of the palenques have quality basic services and are easily accessible year-round due to good road infrastructure.

A visit to the Maleku indigenous territory is a must due to its rich cultural tourism, traditions, dances, food and colorful and unique handicrafts.

Tenorio National Park and Rio Celeste Waterfall

Another must is a visit to the Rio Celeste waterfall and the Teñideros that turn its waters into a light blue color (product of the convergence of the Quebrada Agria River, that is loaded with a very acidic ph (low) and the Buena Vista River, that is loaded with aluminosilicates. When they come into contact with acidity, the particle increases in size and has the ability to scatter light scattering, but only in hues of blue).

This area is part of the Tenorio Volcano National Park, which is considered one of the major attractions of the area. Its area of influence is shared by the cantons of Upala, Guatuso, Bagaces, Cañas and Tilarán, who enjoy its exuberant landscapes, where it is possible to hike on natural trails and where you can find a number of species of flora and fauna particular to the tropical rainforest.

Other natural resources that are valued in this area are its waterfalls, which when combined with the thickness of the abundant primary forest present in the Tenorio Volcano National Park (richness and diversity of flora and fauna) presents a natural attraction of exceptional beauty for visitors to this area.

There are 2 access roads to this wilderness area. If you are coming from National Route 4 (San Carlos-Guatuso-Upala), in the Katira de Guatuso community, turn left and drive on Los Malekus Route for 12.3 km, approximately 21 minutes, until you reach the Station The Pilon of the Tenorio Volcano National Park. If you come by National Route 1, you must take Route 6 towards Bijagua - Upala for 30 km until you reach Bijagua where you turn right onto Ruta Maleku, also known as “ Camino al Parque ” and drive a distance of 9.8 km, approximately 16 minutes. You will find the El Pilon Station of the Tenorio Volcano National Park on the right. Information: hablemosdevolcanes.com

El Jilguero Ecotourism Project

This project is located in the Tenorio Protected Zone, in the community of Tierras Morenas. It offers a tour of the Las Hornillas trail that is approximately 2 kilometers long. During the tour you can observe flora and fauna characteristic of the cloud forest. This project is managed by the El Sombrerito Association, made up of members of the Tierras Morenas community, through a use permit.
Birdwatching

Bijagua is a paradise for bird watching thanks to its forests, ecosystems, altitudes and the climatic conditions that are influenced by the Caribbean slope and the Pacific. They make this area a top spot due to the number of species present. It is interesting to note that in addition to seeing rainforest birds and intermediate zones, dry forest birds such as the Toledo, which can be seen in the lower parts of the park, can also be seen here. The Bijagua area offers ecological connectivity between the Tenorio Volcano National Park, Tenorio Protected Zone, Miravalles Volcano National Park, and Miravalles Protected Zone, which constitute the Tenorio Miravalles Biological Corridor (located in the Arenal Tempisque Conservation Area, it covers an area of 395,046.14 hectares, which is equivalent to 7.73% of the national territory).

Tapir (Tapirus bairdii)

The tourist development center of Bijagua is a magnificent place to see tapirs, after Corcovado. In Bijagua, tapirs live in the rainforest, but they can also cross the street in search of their habitat: it is common to see them near farms and eating what farmers have planted. For biologist Esteban Brenes, co-founder and director of the Costa Rica Wildlife Foundation, there is no better community in the world to see tapirs than Bijagua. They are observed near Cerro de la Muerte and in Corcovado National Park, but a few years ago the tapir was declared the emblematic animal of the Tenorio Miravalles Biological Corridor. Every year during the first week of September, a Tapir Festival is held to attract visitors, to promote tourism and the conservation of the Tapirus bairdii or tapir.

Tourist activities

Bijagua has numerous hectares dedicated to vegetable plantations and dairy cattle ranching. There are many integral and agro-ecological farms dedicated to rural community-based tourism that have been awarded Blue Flag status, promising not only ecological adventures that allow you to experience the local culture, but also the opportunity to taste and get your hands on a few kilos of its famous cheeses and dairy products produced by local artisans. You will be able to visit farms of local families that offer hikes, horseback riding, typical food and traditional food crops.

Additional activities include a visit to a cocoa farm (you can learn about the process of cocoa to become chocolate and even buy a souvenir), butterfly farms, nurseries, tilapia fishing, tours to see sloths (it is possible to see two species, the three-toed sloth and the two-toed sloth), night tours to look for frogs, adventure activities such as hiking, biking, tubing, suspension bridges and many more activities that complement the offer.

If you want to relax from the day’s adventures, enjoy one of the treatments or massages offered in its spa, immersed in nature or relax in the pool or in one of its spas.

As for the gastronomic offer, there is an extensive menu with fresh and varied products, including meats, pastas and seafood.

In Bijagua, located between the Tenorio and Miravalles volcanoes, you can enjoy wonderful natural beauties and also the luxury and wellness of some hotels and the comfort of others.

This area offers options for all tastes and budgets.

How to get there

By vehicle. Take the General Cañas highway towards Puntarenas. Continue on Route 1 to Cañas. About 10 Km after Cañas turn right towards Bijagua. When in the community of Bijagua, turn off 9 kilometers to the east.

The access roads to Bijagua de Upala are:

- National Route 4 (San Carlos-Guatuso- Upala).
- National Route 6 (Cañas- Bijagua- Upala).
- Santa Cecilia de La Cruz Route, along the North Atlantic Corridor.
- Route 4, North Atlantic Corridor entering through connection with route 32.

The nearest international airport is Guanacaste LIR Airport, about 114 kilometers away.

As we go, observe the amazing areas of flora and fauna on our way to discover the beauty of Los Teñideros, a magical place where a chemical reaction creates a natural phenomenon that makes the river and waterfall become a beautiful unique shade of sky blue.

Tenorio National Park

Caño Negro Wildlife Refuge

About 90 minutes from the hotel, visit the Caño Negro Wildlife Refuge, which has been designated a Ramsar site, a conservation wetland of international significance and great importance for the northern part of Costa Rica.

Bird paradise!

Costa Rica has become a favorite destination for naturalists and birdwatchers in particular. Costa Rica has: 925 species, 89 families, 76 endemic, 93 regional endemics, 52 species of hummingbirds and 167 aquatic species.

The area of Bijagua, Miravalles volcano and Tenorio volcano is a micro-region that is under the climatic influence of the Caribbean slope, at an altitude varying from 350 meters to 1916 meters (Tenorio) or 2020 meters (Miravalles).

However, less than 20 km away is the climatic barrier of the Pacific, offering semi-humid to dry forests. All these environments in close proximity are another explanation for the great diversity of the local avifauna.

Palo Verde National Park

One hour and fifteen minutes from Tenorio Lodge, the 19,800 hectares of the Palo Verde National Park is a Ramsar site, located in the lower basin of the Tempisque River. It is considered an area of vital importance as a breeding and feeding site for a large number of species of waterfowl and migratory birds. Known for its extraordinary bird life. Located at the mouth of the Tempisque River, the park owes its name to the Palo Verde, a tree with green bark.

Bird watching

On this early in the morning tour, accompanied by a bilingual naturalist guide, you will have the opportunity to observe a large number of birds of the 230 species that have been recorded to date on the property of Tenorio Lodge, including hummingbirds, toucans, passerines, parrots, motmots, woodpeckers, herons and many other birds, depending on the season. To date, the Tenorio region has more than 420 bird species, including the Tody Motmot (Hylomanes momotula) or Rufous-vented Ground-Cuckoo (Neomorphus geoffroyi).

The Ornithological Tour

More than 300 species of birds live in and around the Heliconias Rainforest Reserve, making it a birdwatcher’s paradise.
