Get Inspired to Plan a New Route

Costa Rica offers a range of options for entering and exiting the country by air. It has two international airports: over 100 daily flights from major cities, facilitating the constant movement of passengers through safe, modern facilities. The Juan Santamaría International Airport (SJO) is the country’s main airport, located in Alajuela. The Liberia (CR) airport is the gateway to numerous beautiful beaches in one of the country’s largest and most important tourist regions.

Nature in its Ultimate Expression

Discover the wealth of our rain forests, national parks, biological reserves and beaches with crystalline waters and multi-colored sand. More than 500 species of birds and thousands of species of orchids exist here. This is paradise for those loving nature or simply relaxing. Travel to every corner of this small country that has no army, has more teachers than police officers, has a democratic lifestyle and whose greatest efforts are directed at health, education and development.

Variety and Modernity

Choose from hundreds of beaches and hide out in lush mountains, tracked valleys and rolling hills where nature displays its best works. Have breakfast in the Caribbean and dinner in the Pacific. No matter where you go, you’ll find convenient transportation, enjoy the peaceful landscapes, easily navigate among the way. Our modern telecommunication tools help you stay connected by your own mobile phone or as often as you like. Broadband connection, email and video conferencing help keep your connection at any needed moment.
